

GREEN RIVER TAKES BIG STEP FORWARD

DEVELOPMENT OF TWENTY-FIVE HUNDRED ACRES.

One of the Greatest Fruit Sections of the Entire West Coming Into Its Own—Many New Buildings in Course of Construction and An Air of Prosperity Shown.

J. F. Ingals, president, George Thurman and John Nimmo, directors, and D. D. Potter, attorney, of the Green River Irrigation district, were in Salt Lake City the other day on business connected with the project, the success of which will mean much for this section of the state. The enterprising citizens of Green River were the first to organize an irrigation district under the provisions of the state law of 1909, providing for the establishing of irrigation districts. Within the past two years the district has dammed the Green river, constructed canals and installed power machinery with which to raise water for purposes of irrigation.

In order to insure ample water for irrigation at all times, and for other purposes, the people voted to bond the district to the amount of two hundred thousand dollars, which they did some time ago. Of these bonds the state land board purchased fifty thousand dollars worth after being assured that the investment was absolutely safe and that the security was allrighted.

Irrigate Big Tract.

In speaking of the enterprise, Attorney Potter said: "The object of our visit to Salt Lake City is to work out a few minor details, and make all titles absolutely perfect. This has been accomplished, and now, in a very short time, we shall advertise for bids for a pumping plant that will raise the water from the bottom of the Green river to a height of ninety feet, and produce a volume of water sufficient to irrigate about twenty-five hundred acres of land, almost, if not all of which will be transformed into one vast forest of fruit trees—apples, peaches, pears and other deciduous fruits. In time, Green River will come to be known as a fruit paradise. All kinds of fruits grow to full fruition and is matchless in flavor. Green River fruit commands premium prices in every market where introduced. The climate and soil at Green River are admirably adapted to the growing to perfection of all kinds of fruit and vegetables.

As to Grape Culture.

"European grapes of various varieties are being introduced, and the success attending grape culture indicates that within a few years Green River will become famous for its splendid vineyards. I do not exaggerate when I say that the Green River cantaloupe is the finest grown in the world. There the cantaloupe grows to perfection and in flavor is far ahead of the world famous Rocky Ford. It brings topnotch prices and yields a profit of from $125 to $150 an acre. The success of our irrigation project, where every land owner will receive an equal distribution of water proportionate to his acreage, will prove of inestimable value in the development of Green River. Our section is being settled by an enterprising and most desirable class of people, mostly from the older states of the East, and all work in harmony and for the common good.

City Grows Rapidly.

"The town of Green River is one of the most important stations on the line of the Denver and Rio Grande, and is growing rapidly. There are in the business district in process of construction five large brick store buildings. These buildings, along with many residences, are being built along modern lines, with a view to solidity, convenience and sanitation. Within the last year the town has derived great impetus as a shipping point by reason of the development of the uranium mines in Grand county, the production from which is shipped East from Green River.

Are to Bore For Oil.

"Several oil companies of unlimited capital are making preparations to bore for oil. A number of derricks and much machinery are already in the field, and these are being added to daily. The finding of oil in commercial quantities means the doubling in value of every kind of property in the Green River Valley. Thus far there is no undue excitement, but it would be useless to deny that there is a feeling of intense expectancy among our people."

Vernal Land Office Abolished By President Taft.

President Taft has directed that the United States land office at Vernal be discontinued and that the records and business of that office be transferred to and made a part of the Salt Lake City office. The change will be made at the close of the official business hours on January 15, 1913, and the transfer made on January 16th.

OGDEN WORKING HARD FOR NORTHERN ROUTE

OGDEN, Dec. 15.—While the automobile enthusiasts of Salt Lake City are forming an association to urge the Midland trail for the transcontinental route, Ogdenites are at work for the route to come through Ogden and north around the lake, following what is known as the northern trail. The Ogden motorists would be willing to have the route follow the Midland trail as far as Salt Lake City and then branch off to Ogden north instead of going around the south of the lake to Wendover.

O. J. Stilwell, secretary of the Ogden publicity bureau, says: "As Salt Lake City does not appear to favor the route coming to Ogden, we will of course work to get the road through Wyoming, down Weber Canyon to Ogden and around the lake through Box Elder county and on to Nevada.

RAPIDLY DEVELOPING THE RAINBOW GILSONITE MINE

J. E. Pettit, state coal mine inspector, has returned to Salt Lake City from an inspection trip in Utah county. He says that conditions were found to be satisfactory in that region. He reports that the new Rainbow gilsonite mine is making rapid progress. Four hundred tons of ore are being turned out daily now, and a railroad has been built from the property to Watson. The Black Dragon mine was closed down last month. He also visited the Bonanza mine while on the trip, where everything was found in splendid shape.
